Change is great
as long as I do not have to do anything

- John Stott

Where is our love?

Real kindness is built with

(This kindness) actually

- Chip Gains
No Pain, No Gains

I still believe our collective kindness can become louder than any individual acts of hate.

But that's only if we don't let ourselves go numb.
Only if we expand our bubbles until they disappear.

What pain does the world have that causes me to ache?
What small thing can I do about it today?
